Gallery Fine Art by Design

L.A. Mart® Design Center is proud to announce the debut of a brand new fine art gallery space opening April 2, 2009. Working with some of the best emerging and established talent in the art world today, LOOK Gallery founder Jerri Levi has launched an exciting new space that will both intrigue and inspire. “We envision this gallery as a creative resource,” says Levi, “with the belief that the ideas presented by the exceptional work within can be of value to all who enter.”

Levi is confident that LOOK Gallery’s L.A. Mart® Design Center location is an ideal destination for design professionals who source LAMDC for superior furnishings, art and accessories. “Art is an integral part of the design process. This is not just a gallery. As a consulting practice as well, LOOK Artists works with interior designers, architects, developers and individual specifiers of art to find exceptional aesthetic solutions to meet any need and price point.”

LOOK Gallery expects to make a big splash in its first month; at approximately 4,700-square-feet, the space, designed by architect Ann Gray, FAIA is among the city’s largest commercial galleries. And with an inaugural show that has people talking, things are looking good for Levi.

LOOK Gallery’s debut, “THRILLER: The King of Pop Meets the King of Cool,” is an exhibition – curated by Peter Frank – of works seen and unseen, small and large, by L.A.’s pre-eminent muralist Kent Twitchell. The installation opens April 2, 2009 with a reception from 6 to 9 pm, and runs by appointment until to April 24. The centerpiece of the show is the first-ever public showing of Twitchell’s Michael Jackson mural. Commissioned by the Hollywood Arts Council in a move to symbolize the neighborhood’s cultural renaissance in the early 90s, this 80-foot tall mural was originally slated to be shown on the side of the Barker Bros. Building (now the El Capitan Theatre) on Hollywood Boulevard. The mural never saw the light of day – until now.

LOOK Artists represents an adventurous and accomplished cross-section of artists, including Kent Twitchell, Tim Howell, Eric Poppleton, Eric Zammitt, Adam Wolpert, Carol Bishop, Katsuhisa Sakai, Marissa Roth, and Walter Perego.

Additionally, Levi, an art and design publishing industry veteran, will launch LOOK Fine Art Editions in conjunction with the gallery’s opening show. LOOK Fine Art Editions offers the highest quality of Digital Fine Art Pigment Prints available to the serious collector of fine art reproductions. Upon request, each LOOK limited edition print is supervised, proofed and signed by the artist. Numbers are restricted for quality control.
